

INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

1. Agreements on academic exchange with overseas universities

Nagoya City University has established international exchange agreements with six universities. The Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences has reached an academic exchange agreement with the School of Pharmacy at the University of Southern California in the United States. The Faculty of Economics has also reached similar agreements with the Faculty of Commerce and Economics at the University of New South Wales in Australia. With the University of New South Wales, the Medical School and the School of Humanities and Social Sciences have also reached an exchange agreement. In 2001, the School of Design and Architecture entered into an exchange agreement with Politecnico di Torino in Italy. In March 2002, the School of Nursing, the Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences and the Medical School reached an academic exchange agreement with the College of Health Sciences at the University of Sydney in Australia. The Graduate School of Medical Sciences and the Graduate School of Pharmaceutical Sciences also entered into an exchange agreement with Nanjing Medical University in the People's Republic of China in November 2002. In December 2002, the Graduate School of Natural Sciences reached an exchange agreement with Wichita State University.

The University of Southern California is located in Los Angeles, which is a sister city of Nagoya. It is a prestigious private university with a long tradition of academic excellence. It has an enrollment of over 30,000 students situated on two large campuses.

The University of New South Wales is a state university located in the suburbs of Sydney, another sister city of Nagoya. It also has a large campus with modern facilities, and is regarded as one of the most prestigious universities in Australia.

The University of Sydney is also located in Sydney. It is one of the most traditional and most famous universities in Australia and provides a wide range of challenging and up-to-date undergraduate and graduate courses.

Politecnico di Torino is a national university located in Turin, the capital of Piedmont, in Italy. It has a long history and prominent reputation as an institution specializing in architecture and engineering.

Nanjing Medical University is located in Nanjing, another sister city of Nagoya. It is a center of medical facilities in the province of Jiangsu.

Wichita State University is located in Wichita, Kansas. It has 6 colleges and 78 departments. It has about 500 faculty members and an enrollment of more than 15,000 students.

Universities	Countries	Date of Reaching Agreement
The University of New South Wales	Australia	Scholar Exchange Agreement: November, 1990 Student Exchange Agreement: November, 1991
The University of Southern California	U.S.A.	Academic Exchange Agreement: September, 1992
Politecnico di Torino	Italy	General Agreement: January, 2001
The University of Sydney	Australia	Academic Exchange Agreement: March, 2002
Nanjing Medical University	People's Republic of China	Academic Exchange Agreement: November, 2002
Wichita State University	U.S.A.	Academic Exchange Agreement: December, 2002 Student Exchange Agreement: December, 2002

The University of Southern California

The University of New South Wales

Politecnico di Torino

The University of Sydney

Nanjing Medical University

Wichita State University