

2. Faculty Exchange

The Participants of the Faculty Exchange Programs

(2005 Academic Year)

	Number of University Staff Sent Abroad	Number of International Researchers
Asia	80	11
North America	124	12
South America	2	—
Oceania	18	—
Europe	100	12
Africa	5	—

Faculty exchange on an individual basis has been very active as well. Every year approximately 300 academic staff are sent overseas to attend international conferences or to conduct academic research.

Nagoya City University also has a program to invite scholars from overseas. The university has invited scholars from various parts of the world in order to promote international exchange and academic activities. The university is committed to further expanding interest in international exchange programs.

3. Student Exchange

In recent years, the number of international students (mainly from Asia) at Nagoya City University has been increasing rapidly. In order to establish an effective academic environment for international students, the university has taken special measures for the students' care. For example, the university has adopted an individual tutor system as well as providing Japanese Language courses. Furthermore, in order to enhance friendship amongst the students, the university conducts various study trips and tours.

International Students Banquet

Study Trip